Disclosure, Funding Sources

All views expressed as a teacher, scholar, editor, member of an academic committee or in any other role as a university professor are strictly my own independent opinion.

Donors for projects with which I am associated come from sources that include:

- The Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council (Grants in Aid of Scholarly Journals)
- The Legal Research Institute of the University of Manitoba (law journals, various research projects)
- The Canadian Credit Management Foundation fellows program
- The Canadian Credit Management Fund for International Business and Trade Law Conferences
- The Asper Family Foundation
- Canadian Friends of Hebrew University
- The Jewish Foundation of Manitoba
- The Faculty of Law Endowment Fund

As counsel for the law firm Pitblado LLP, I carry out professional practice for various clients. I also serve on two international dispute resolution panels (Bilcon v. Canada; Amorrortu v. Peru) and as a co-principal investigator on an NSERC grant on AI and children.
